

Student Academy of Audiology

Country	UK	Australia	New Zealand	Canada
Can AuDs from the USA work in the country?	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes
Are there any extra requirements for AuDs to practice (extra training, education, etc)?	Work permit, registration as a Clinical Scientist	Completion of a one year clinical internship; certification through Australia Audiology	Completion of an 11 month internship to obtain certification through New Zealand Audiological Society (NZAS) (waived if applicant holds ASHA CCC-A)	Can vary by province
What is the licensure process?	Registration with Health Professionals Council	Certification through Australia Audiology	Certification through NZAS (unless applicant holds ASHA CCC-A)	Can vary by province. Certification can be obtained through Speech-Language and Audiology--Canada (SAC). SAC has reciprocity with ASHA CCC-A
Can US students complete an externship in the country?	Mixed success – hard to find paid positions or positions with enough variety (most adult HAs)	Possible if application for membership in Australia Audiology is approved before externship year begins.	Possible if application for membership in NZAS is approved before externship year begins.	Unclear--clinical education is built in to the Master's program in Audiology in Canada (i.e., clinical internships not typically available)
What are some organizations related to audiology in the country?	British Academy of Audiology http://www.baaudiology.org	Australia Audiology: http://www.audiology.asn.au/	NZAS: http://www.audiology.org.nz/home.aspx	SAC: http://sac-oac.ca/ Canadian Academy of Audiology (CAA): https://canadianaudiology.ca/professional.html
Does the country have an active academy?	British Academy of Audiology http://www.baaudiology.org	Australia Audiology: http://www.audiology.asn.au/	NZAS: http://www.audiology.org.nz/home.aspx	CAA: https://canadianaudiology.ca/professional.html
How does billing/reimbursement work?	Services are provided via the National Health Service (NHS)
How much do audiologists earn, on average?	£19.5k-37.5k per year (~30k-58k USD), depending on experience and specialty	50k-105k AUD (38k-115k USD) Median pay of 69k AUD (53k USD)	45k-110k NZD (32k-79k USD)	Average 72k CAD (58k USD)
Who can students contact for more information?	students@baaudiology.org	info@audiology.asn.au	mail@audiology.org.nz	caa@canadianaudiology.ca