Activity Name:

Activity Purpose:

Host hearing screenings at a local gun range for the public and gun range employees. Customized hearing protection can be offered to those involved. The range may purchase pairs for all of their employees, which can be used to raise funds for your SAA chapter. In the lobby of the gun range, SAA members can attend to an information table that includes information about hearing protection and hearing loss.

Activity Description:

Portable audiometers were setup in the offices of the neighboring company. A licensed audiologist supervised the screenings and earmold impressions. Patrons were informed about the screenings by the SAA members at the table in the lobby of the gun range. Employees rotated through the screenings as they were able to.

Tips:

Next time, we plan to have the screenings be in a building that is next the actual gun range instead of across the parking lot. This may have prevented some people from walking over to get their hearing checked. The event was on a Saturday, which was great because it is often the range's busiest day. The gun range was motivated to participate to enhance their OSHA noise protection program. Make sure you have plenty of eye-catching information and handouts, excited students and all of your earmold materials. Double check your impressions and order forms before submission. Collect deposits on the earmolds and
