Activity Name:

Activity Purpose:

Recruit participants from the department (staff, faculty, speech pathology students, PhD students, Audiology students, etc.) to compete against each other in fun field day games.

Activity Description:

Games can include: water balloon toss, bobbing for apples, relays, 3-legged race, egg in spoon race, tug of war, etc. This encourages inter-departmental bonding and collaboration as well as fundraising from outside the immediate SAA chapter. Ask participants to pay an entrance fee.

Activity Location:

Important Contacts or Resources:

Local parks and recreation department or university recreation center to rent a field.

Tips:

We charged $16 as an entrance fee and included a team t-shirt (uniform). The shirts were the same design in different colors. Some people also bought shirts without attending, or faculty gave donations without attending. Consider meeting with your faculty SAA advisor regarding legal protection of an outdoor recreational event. Have volunteers come in early to help fill a tub to bob for apples, set up tents, line up cones in the field, etc.
